COVID Update: No more confirmed cases of COVID this week. Self-Isolation guidance: It's a legal requirement to self-isolate if you test positive or are told to self-isolate by NHS Test and Trace. You could be fined if you do not self-isolate. When does your child need to stay home from school? If anyone in your household or your child has any of these symptoms: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• A high temperature• A new, continuous cough• A loss or change to your sense of smell or taste. Everyone should stay at home, unless they need to get a test or need medical attention. How long does your child need to stay at home? If someone in the household has symptoms or tested positive, your child will need to stay at home for 14 days. If they do not develop symptoms in this time, they can return to school on day 15. If they develop symptoms, they must isolate for 10 days from the first day they had symptoms. Can I get my child tested and come back to school sooner? Unfortunately not, if someone in the household has symptoms it can take 14 days for them to show in another person, so they may test negative on the first of the 14 days but be positive is tested on day 13 for instance.
