SCHOOL MENTAL HEALTH OFFER

The mental health offer has been devised alongside the attachment aware approach embedded throughout the school's culture and vision. Everyone has mental health and a right to a positive wellbeing.

The mental health offer for pupils, families and staff has been mapped to the Thrive framework.

The Thrive framework is an essential framework for communities who are supporting the mental health and wellbeing of children, young people and their families.

It aims to talk about mental health and mental health support in a common language that everyone understands. This has been proven to improve the support offered to children, young people and their families by different professionals as communication and efficiency is improved.

The framework is needs-led. This means mental health needs are defined by children, young people and families alongside professionals through shared decision making. Needs are not based on severity, diagnosis or health pathways.

Referenced: https://www.annafreud.org/mental-health-professionals/thrive-framework/

The Senior Mental Health Lead and Pastoral Support Team work with several professionals from the mental health support team to provide advice, guidance and training for pupils, staff and families.

Annually, senior leaders complete the wellbeing audit and attachment relationship aware audits to inform school improvement planning related to relationship and wellbeing practice.
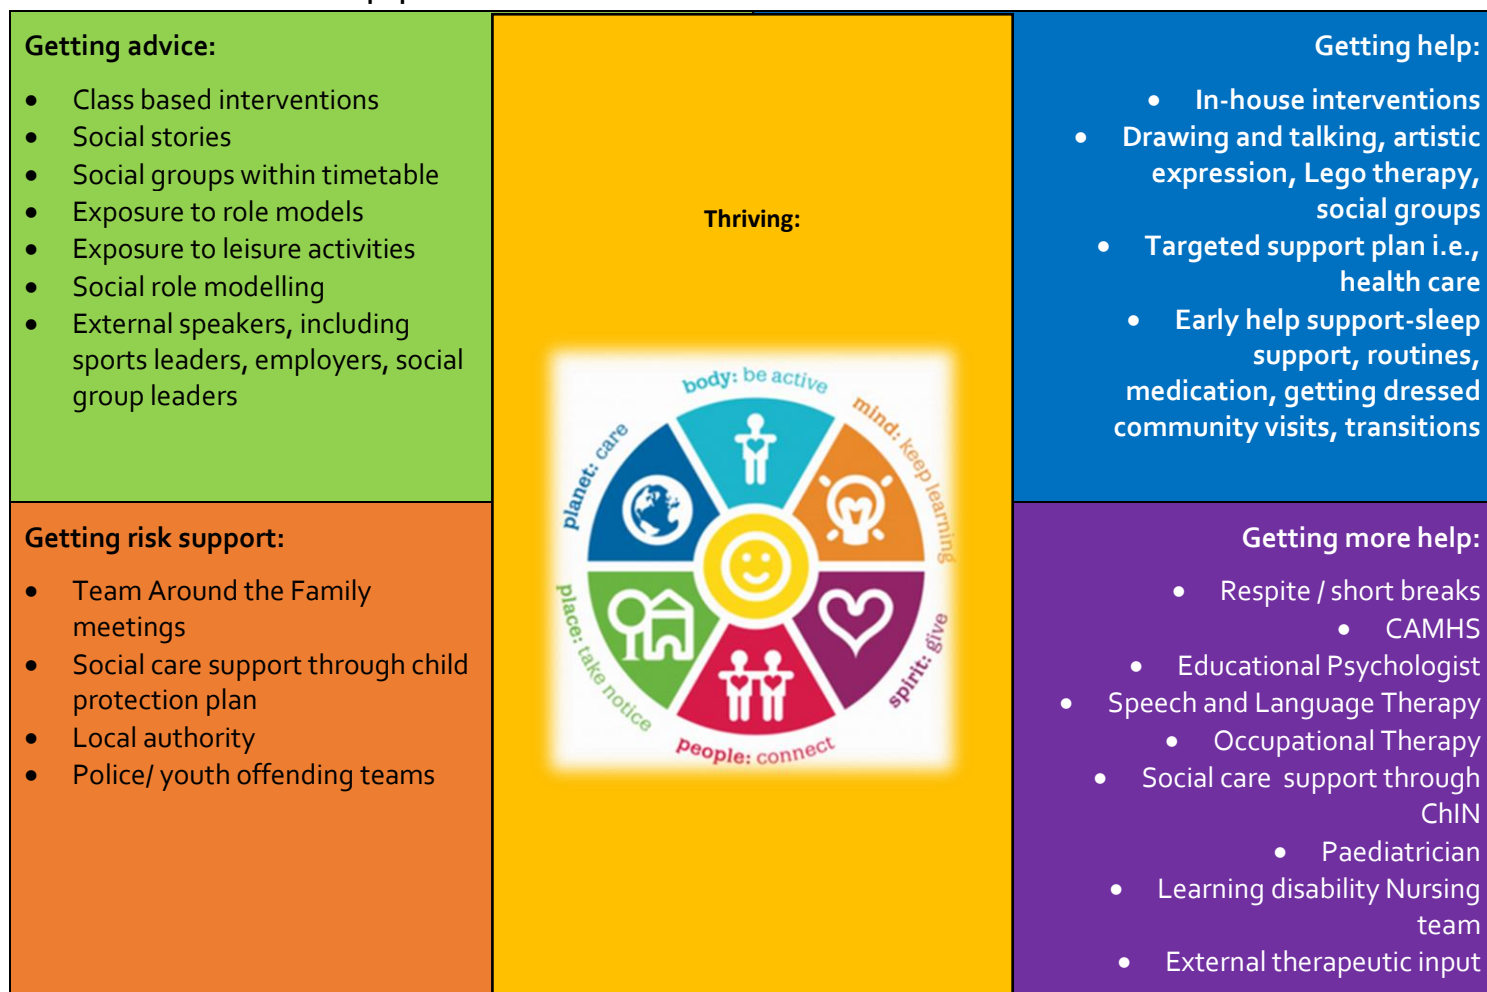

PUPILS' WELLBEING

SENIOR MENTAL HEALTH LEAD	SOPHIE EVITTS/ MAXINE URSELL

The purpose of the mental health offer for our pupils is:

- To proactively support positive mental health embedding approaches within the curriculum
- To provide mental health support for pupils that is appropriate and timely
- To support all pupils to have good mental health and know how to access support when their mental health deteriorates

See appendix 1 for risk and protective factors

See appendix 2 for the proactive ways all pupils' wellbeing is supported to thrive.

Role of the Class Team and Keyworkers

The first stage of pastoral and wellbeing support begins within the classroom. Through working with them every day, the class team are best placed to have a thorough understanding of the pupils' holistic needs: learning their preferences, motivators, narrative and journey to this point. Each pupil has a keyworker, who liaises day to day with home. Classroom timetables and environments are set up to promote positive mental health; stability, routine, predictability and independence.

The class team support behaviour through the completion of the 'All About Me' documents for each child. These cover strengths and needs, wellbeing, sensory profile, developmental stage, communication needs and behaviour support.

Class teams also have access to the Peli-Can Framework to support pupil wellbeing.

Peli-Can is a framework, story, guidance, and resources to support children and young people with additional needs, particularly learning disabilities, learn skills in noticing and coping with feelings and thoughts, building relaxation skills, and problem-solving/flexible thinking skills. Peli-Can is designed to be delivered to children and young people with complex learning needs and/or learning disabilities aged 4-18 years.

The story is engaging and simple and shows the Peli-Can framework with some examples of how Tou helps Peli using the four framework elements:

- I CAN Feel
- I CAN Relax
- I CAN Think
- I CAN Do

These four elements are important aspects of building emotional literacy, resilience and wellbeing.

See the Peli-Can long term map for additional information about classroom practice.

When classes feel their classroom approaches are not fully supporting a pupil to thrive, or there is a change in the pupil, classes will refer to the pastoral team for support which they feel requires additional input outside of the class team.

INTERNAL SUPPORT INCLUDING WELLBEING SESSIONS

The purpose of the wellbeing session and internal support is:

- To provide pupils of Brackenfield SEND school with bespoke therapeutic interventions, for tier two early help; whereby they require support additional to provision within the classroom to support their emotional and wellbeing needs.
- To provide pupils with timely access to therapeutic interventions to support their mental health and wellbeing.

Referring for support:

Class teams who wish to access mental health interventions for pupils must email earlyhelp@brackenfield.derbyshire.sch.uk. The referral should include details of observations linked to the reason for referral. Reasons may include noticing a change in presentation, interactions or relationships; a change in circumstances; or simply observations that something is not right.

Referrals are then triaged and allocated at the weekly pastoral support meeting. Feedback is given to teachers, along with signposting to other services if necessary.

At the pastoral support meeting, a decision will be made to the most appropriate service, this might be an intervention provided in school, or a specialist service outside school such as Single point of access (SPOA) for CAMHS services or Single Point of Entry (SPOE) for LD- CAMHS, Clinical psychology and Specialist nursing team.

The pastoral team will seek specialist support from Specialist Community Advisors (SCA) where a referral to specialist services is needed to access appropriate and timely services. Pastoral Support Team has several external agencies they can refer pupils to, should mental health support be needed.

Before support commences, the family support worker will check the J2L and complete the intervention spreadsheet, with bespoke target setting. This is shared with the staff member delivering the intervention or therapy. Usually this will not be a familiar member of staff to ensure the sessions do not interfere with day to day relationships.

Currently we have staff trained to deliver therapies and interventions in Peli-Can, Positive Play, Drawing and Talking Therapy, Behaviour Box, Therapeutic Arts and Lego Therapy. Further details of the content of these sessions can be found in appendix 3.

Impact, including quality assurance:

Pupils who attend therapy or intervention sessions are provided with a safe space to talk about difficult emotions or experiences, enabling them to be open with us about their mental wellbeing. All pupils are set clear outcome targets before sessions start. At the end of each session staff note their progress towards these targets and provide qualitative information. Some outcomes that have been met are:
- Increased attendance at school
- Awareness of emotions and confidence to share with others
- Confidence with friendships
- Ability to discuss life events
- Social group participation
- Ability to recognise anxiety
- Increased management of Anger emotions
- Role modelling

Family support workers keep in regular contact with class teams on the impact of sessions, looking at decreased behaviours in class and increased engagement in school. Following assessment depending on the impact the work maybe continued, changed or discontinued. On some occasions therapies and interventions are not suitable due to the severity of need. In these cases, alternatives are sought, such as referrals to Specialist CAMHS services, or signposting for class teams to support.

The Head of Pastoral Care and Family Support Worker review the waiting list and therapeutic spreadsheet to look at progress and impact of therapeutic interventions on a half termly basis. This information is fed back to Senior Leadership Team as part of the Headteacher's Report to Governors.

Impact

Pupils can access mental health support early, which produces better long-term outcomes. Class teams know a clear route to refer and can do this with already established assessments. Pastoral team staff have appropriate information that ensures they can make a timely referral. Pupils receive the right support at the right time, including referrals into external services and family support. This is evidenced through pupil voice, pupil progress and intervention quality assurance.

FAMILIES' WELLBEING

HEAD OF PASTORAL CARE	MICK GAYLE

Family support plays a vital role in supporting the wellbeing of our pupils and supporting them to thrive. The purpose of family support is:

- To proactively support and involve families in their child's education with regular communication, opportunities to feedback and impact on the school community
- To listen and to signpost families to support their child and wider family
- To actively support through the early help offer and safeguarding procedures

Thrive model for families:

PASTORAL AND EARLY HELP OFFER

HEAD OF PASTORAL CARE	MICK GAYLE

Providing early help to our children and families of Brackenfield SEND School means we promote effective support as early as possible. Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges, at any point in a child's life, from early years through to teenage years.

Here at Brackenfield SEND School, we understand just how complicated family life can be. From time to time there may be situations where families need extra help and support. Parents and carers can self-refer or be referred by school staff for pastoral support and the early help offer. There are many ways in which we can help.

At Brackenfield SEND School we pride ourselves in knowing the children well: we are alert to the welfare of our children and are vigilant regarding any situation in which we can provide support.

We have a number of systems in place to identify unmet needs and we seek at all times to work in collaboration with families, with openness, integrity and understanding and with the needs of the child at the centre of all we do.

Early Help is everyone's responsibility. As such, you can speak with any member of the school team who would be happy to pass your concerns on to one of our Children Services team.

Safeguarding and Child Protection Procedures

The school has a clear and detailed Safeguarding (Child Protection Policy). Key members of the Senior Leadership Team, as well as the Pastoral Manager, are trained as Designated Safeguarding Leads, to ensure adequate coverage at all times. We also have a Safeguarding Governor. Click here for the list on our website.

At Brackenfield SEND School, we all work together to ensure that rigorous and robust systems are in place within the school to ensure the safety of all our children and that we always act in the interest of the child.

We meet the needs of our children through a variety of ways. These are detailed in appendix 4

LOOKED AFTER CHILDREN

ASSISTANT HEADTEACHER	JANINE RIVERS

A looked-after child is a child who is accommodated by the local authority, a child who is subject to a care order or a child who is remanded by a court into local authority care. All Looked After Children (LAC) placements are overseen by the Virtual School for the relevant local authority. The school's Designated Teacher is Janine Rivers, Assistant Headteacher. The Designated Teacher oversees all LAC provision. Every LAC pupil is entitled to additional funding of £2345 per academic year. The funding is applied for during Pupil Education Plan (PEP) meetings. These are held once a term or twice a year. PEP meetings cover the following agenda items: strengths and achievements, views of the student, personalised learning intentions in line with the school curriculum offer, current and target attainment data. Due to the low level of cognitive and developmental needs, Brackenfield pupils' targets are set as their Personalised Learning Intentions (PLIs). This lateral data is used to track progress of the pupil. These PLIs are used as the focus for intervention sessions for each LAC pupil. Intervention sessions are completely bespoke depending on the individuals needs and PLIs. The funding also enables resources to be purchased specifically for use during sessions, considering the interests of the pupil.

Additional information about looked after children can be found in this government guidance:

STAFF WELLBEING

The purpose of supporting staff wellbeing is:

- To proactively promote wellbeing in which every individual realises their own potential, can cope with the normal stresses of life, work productively and make a contribution to their community
- To promote a sense of belonging and quality relationships within the workplace which can cope with life's challenges and recover from setbacks
- To create a 'be kind' community at all levels without exception, promoting protective factors such as humour and positive attitudes

Thrive model for staff:

UPD policy

Getting more help:

Sickness absence review process

Reasonable adjustments

Flexible working requests

Specialist Community Advisor

This model is not exhaustive, nevertheless aims to highlight the processes and culture within the workplace to support the wellbeing and mental health of all staff.

The CPD offer to staff is a fundamental part in promoting the professional development, and therefore inclusion of the whole staff team. The CPD offer is aligned to the school improvement plan, aiming to bring the staff team on the same journey as the school develops to meet the ever-changing needs of its cohort. As a research-based school, our curriculum approaches change and it is important staff are given the opportunity to develop their confidence in these new approaches. Change is difficult for many people, as such the leadership team talk openly about a 'team-ship' approach the school offer and bringing our colleagues with us.

When staff are experiencing difficulty in their life, be it personal or professional, the line lead structure is designed to ensure staff are signposted to the right support quickly and confidentially.

Senior leaders and other school leaders are qualified mental health first aiders. Mental Health First Aiders have the knowledge and skills to spot signs of people experiencing poor mental health, be confident to start a conversation and signpost a person to appropriate support. This supports staff wellbeing and also gives staff confidence in their line leads to have the skillset to support them emotionally.

Please see the Stress at Work, Absence Monitoring, Health and Safety and Code of Conduct policies to see further detail on support available to staff.

The wellbeing action plan forms part of the school improvement plan; detailing how the leadership team work towards embedding an ongoing culture of positive wellbeing for one's self and colleagues.

Impact

Staff at all levels are supported to achieve their potential, understand and fulfil their role in the school and feel informed about proactive approaches to look after your own mental health and signpost colleagues, pupils and families. This will be evidenced through analysis of staff voice, sickness absence, staff performance and the overall success of school development.

Supporting Staff to Support Pupils: Trauma-Informed/ Relational Practice Approach

To ensure pupils are supported in a proactive trauma informed practice, staff must understand how their needs are supported, to enable them to effectively support pupils. The table below identifies the practical measures in place to support staff wellbeing, based on the theory of 'mending hurts' by KCA- knowing 'When we notice ourselves do something well, we become more conscious of our activity and more competent in it.'

The information found in appendix 5 can be used alongside the stress at work risk assessment to identify areas which may be impacting staff wellbeing at work.

ADDITIONAL READING AND BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

In December 2017, the government published the green paper on Mental Health Provision for children and young people.

DFE guidance:

https://www.gov.uk/guidance/mental-health-and-wellbeing-support-in-schools-and-colleges#full-publication-update-history

Following this, Derbyshire in November 2019, Derbyshire County Council, with Derbyshire CCG introduced the Changing Lives scheme.

Changing lives, launched with new Mental Health Support Teams (MHSTs) to provide extra capacity for early interventions and ongoing help within school. Mental Health Support Teams (MHSTs) are a new resource, funded by and accountable to the NHS. They will work with, and in, schools and colleges to support with mental health and wellbeing and to treat mild to moderate mental health issues. Schools were encouraged to identify a Senior Mental Health Lead, with an offer of training to help school promote better whole school mental health. The MHSTs for Brackenfield School is part of the special school's cluster, with workers based at the Kingsmead Centre in Derby. The MHSTs will deliver evidence-based interventions for mild to moderate mental health issues.

The teams will carry out interventions alongside established provision such as counselling, educational psychologists, and school nurses building on the menu of support already available and not replacing it. The MHST will provide:

- Individual face-to-face work: for example, effective, brief, low-intensity interventions for children, young people and families experiencing anxiety, low mood, friendship or behavioural difficulties, based on up to date evidence.
- Group work for pupils or parents such as Cognitive Behavioural Therapy for young people for conditions such as self-harm, and anxiety.
- Group parenting classes to include issues around conduct disorder and communication difficulties

For more information please visit:
https://derbyanddderbyshireemotionalhealthandwellbeing.uk/adult/emotional-wellbeing-support

They will also support the senior mental health lead in each school or college to introduce or develop their whole school or college approach:

- Work with the senior mental health lead and existing service providers, to map what provision is already in place in settings and where the gaps are.
- Provide targeted help as agreed with the lead, e.g. to support monitoring of well-being across the schools and colleges, teaching about mental health (in the context of health education becoming compulsory from September 2020), understanding how peer support and interpersonal relationships impact on children and young people well-being and mental health, train others to help children and young people, parents/carers and teachers to identify and manage stress and anxiety.

Brackenfield has in place termly meeting with LD-CAMHS. During these meetings, class teams can request a pupil to discussed to gain insight to support available for them. LD CAMHS will advise on where to refer and offer practical support for the class team to manage behaviours.

Specialist Community Advisor (SCA) are able to advise on appropriate routes to refer to gain the correct support at the correct time. These advisors are able to signpost existing voluntary agencies that can offer mental health support, such as signposting to counselling services.

APPENDICES

Risk and Protective Factors:

Factors that put children at risk

Certain individuals and groups are more at risk of developing mental health problems than others. These risks can relate to the child themselves, to their family, or to their community or life events. These risk factors are listed in table 1.

Risk factors are cumulative. For example, children exposed to multiple risks such as social disadvantage, family adversity and cognitive or attention problems are much more likely to develop behavioural problems. Longitudinal analysis of data for 16,000 children suggested that boys with five or more risk factors were almost eleven times more likely to develop conduct disorder under the age of ten than boys with no risk factors. Girls of a similar age with five or more risk factors were nineteen times more likely to develop the disorder than those with no risk factors.

Factors that make children more resilient

Research suggests that there is a complex interplay between the risk factors in children's lives, and the protective factors which can promote their resilience. As social disadvantage and the number of stressful life events accumulate for children, more protective factors are needed to act as a counterbalance. The key protective factors which build resilience to mental health problems are shown alongside the risk factors in table 1, below.

In order to promote positive mental health, it is important that schools have an understanding of the protective factors that can enable pupils to be resilient when they encounter problems and challenges. The role that schools play in promoting the resilience of their pupils is particularly important for children with less supportive home lives, who may not have a trusted adult they can talk to. Schools should be a safe and affirming place for children where they can develop a sense of belonging and feel able to trust and talk openly with adults about their problems.

Table 1: Risk and protective factors that are believed to be associated with mental health outcomes

	Risk factors	Protective factors	Brackenfield approach to promote protective factors for pupils with SEND

Available therapies and interventions for pupils:

Peli-Can: PELICAN is a framework, story, guidance, and resources to support children and young people with additional needs, particularly learning disabilities, learn skills in noticing and coping with feelings and thoughts, building relaxation skills, and problem-solving/flexible thinking skills. It can be delivered to a class, small groups or in intensive one to one sessions.

Positive Play: These sessions look to allow pupils to express/communicate their feelings, raise their self-esteem and improve social skills, in a safe and supportive environment. Sessions are held weekly, for 30 minutes on a one-to-one basis in the Sensory Haven. Sessions are completed when the target is met.

Drawing and Talking Therapy: These sessions look to open a pupil's inner world. This work is carried out through the pupil drawing, and then talking about the drawing. It tries to access the pupil's inner world and must be carried out safely and no. non-intrusively, with respect for the pupil's own pace and state of being. Therefore, anyone using Drawing and Talking learns to stay in the world of the pupils drawing. The pupil sets the pace and decides what to bring to the session. Sessions are held weekly, for 30 minutes on a one-to-one basis. Sessions are completed after 12 weeks.

Behaviour Box. These sessions look to allow pupils the time and space to develop their self-esteem and confidence. Behaviour box is broken down into 4 groups - Belong, Body, Brave and Be. Sessions are held weekly, one to one or one to two to allow information to be bespoke for the pupils needs. Sessions are held weekly, for 30 minutes, sessions are completed after 12 weeks.

Therapeutic arts. These sessions look to allow a pupil to explore their feelings around situations. They are led by the pupil, on topics they choose to explore, this may be, emotional or social feelings. Pupils have access to a range of art materials, including music and drama, and take the therapist along with them exploring. Sessions are held weekly, for 30 minutes on a one-to-one basis. Sessions are completed after 12 weeks.

Lego Therapy. These sessions look to support children social and communication skills. Lego therapy provides pupils will experience in communicating effectively with other, problem solving, persevere, fine motor skills, working cooperatively, identifying and discussing their feelings. Sessions are held weekly, for no more than 30 minutes in a small group. Sessions are completed after 6-8 weeks.

LGBT+. LGBT+ Derbyshire support pupils to look at their identity, including gender identity. They have run bespoke RSE sessions for pupils deemed to be higher risk of exploitation, to support them to understand areas such as consent. Current group sessions focus on Gender Identity, to support bespoke pupils to understand their feelings around their own gender.

Derbyshire Local Offer

   https://localoffer.derbyshire.gov.uk

The original 'Derbyshire Local Offer' website was developed with the help of parents, carers and their children and has been well-used as a source of information about a wide range of relevant services and support since it was launched in 2014.

Since then, changes in the way people prefer to search for information and the advance of social media mean we have reviewed the site, again using feedback from the people who use it.

The site features clearly marked sections, an improved search function by area, service or subject with an ability to filter results and direct links to various organisations' social media accounts.

It also has other sections including information about free courses and training, lists of local support groups for parents, their other children, families and carers, details of leisure events, places to go and things to do plus support for professionals.
